Compretta gains Salem

Senate reapportionment results in county split

by EDGAR PEREZ

Hancock County Representative J. P. Compretta will gain some 600 people from the Salem Community of Pearl River County under a reapportionment plan approved in special session this week by the Mississippi House of Representatives.

The northwest boundary line of Compretta's new district, if the plan is approved by a three-man panel of federal judges, cuts through the southeast edge of the City of Picayune. Under the plan, Compretta will not lose any of his Hancock County jurisdiction.

But in a plan proposed by the State Senate to reapportion itself, Senator Martin Smith will lose some of his Hancock County constituency to a new senatorial district—No. 46—composed of portions of Hancock, Harrison, and Forrest Counties and all of Stone and Perry Counties.

Senator Smith has represented a senate district up to now which was composed of all of Hancock and Pearl River Counties.

The Senate plan, using federal census enumeration districts (ED) to balance population in the senatorial districts, places Hancock County ED's One and Four in Senate District 46.

Hancock ED's One and Four are roughly defined on the north by the Sellers-Standard Road and the road from Standard to Hwy. 603. The western boundary follows Hwy. 603 south to the Jourdan River, and the southern boundary stretches from Hwy. 603 along the Jourdan River and across the Bay of St. Louis to the Harrison County line. The eastern boundary is the Hancock-Harrison County line.

Under one of two plans submitted to the court by the U.S. Department of Justice, Smith's district would be composed of all of Hancock County and Pearl River County, except for the Pearl River precincts of Buck Branch, Byrd Line, Ford's Creek, Gum Pond, Hickory Grove, Hillsdale, White Sand, and Oak Hill 1 and 2.

Under the precinct line proposal offered by the Justice Department, Compretta's district would comprise

Waveland development shows $ million price tag

by EDGAR PEREZ

Plans for a $1 million housing development fronting 720 feet along Beach Boulevard in Waveland were unveiled following the city's council meeting Tuesday night.

Developer Fred Small, computer center director for the U.S. Naval Oceanographic office at NASA-NSTL, said the 72-home community will include a nine-hole, "executive" golf course as well as a $50,000, solar-heated swimming pool and $40,000 tennis courts.

A steel and concrete pier extending some 1,500 feet into the Mississippi Sound is also planned, and eventually the pier will become a public marina, Small told the aldermen.

The 40-acre parcel—bounded by Beach Boulevard, Mollere Drive, Central Avenue and Adrienne Court—will feature the first Coast Guard approved lighthouse to be constructed in the United States since 1966, Small said.

He noted the lighthouse will be the first in Hancock County, with nearest similar structures located at Biloxi and New Orleans.

Dubbed "Maison Sur-a" a planned development community on the beach, the development will contain a structure density of 1.6 homes per acre. Small said he could sell the 72 lots at a minimum of $15,000 each and "still make a few bucks."

But the developer, whose belt buckle

Hawks to fly at Pickle Bowl

by JAKE JACOB

The Hancock North Central Hawks have been signed to play in the 12th Annual Pickle Bowl.

Set for Friday, Nov. 18, the game will be played at the A.L. May Memorial Stadium, Perkinston. Sponsored by the Wiggins Jaycees, the bowl is ranked as one of the top three on the coast, the others being the Shrimp Bowl in Biloxi, and the Turkey Bowl in Ocean Springs.

James O. Rabby, president, Wiggins Jaycees, signed the contract on behalf of the Pickle Bowl, a contract containing generous terms to the participants.

Rabby said his organization looked for teams having a winning record, good fan following, and were local in origin, for the annual event.

The Hawks, climaxing three years of "winning seasons" qualify in all departments.

Hawk Coach Irving Favre said his team had come through a 5-5 season in 1975, a 6-4 win-loss season in 1976, to its present 8-0 slot, through the result of a combined effort of all the boys on the team.

"We have a good football program and with our defeats of Bay Senior High Tigers, and the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-Chaws, have proven to be the best team in the county," Favre recounted.

The bowl marks the team's second invitational outing, the first being its 1975 participation in the Wendell Lader Memorial Bowl.

Each member of the Hawk squad dressing out for the game will receive a memorial trophy, the most valuable back and lineman on both teams will be recognized with a trophy, and both champion and runner-up teams will receive trophies. The most valuable player overall will receive a wrist watch.

Proceeds of the bowl game will be utilized by the Wiggins Jaycees to further their scholarship program.

Last defendant in '76 smuggling pays fine

Stacey Howard, the last defendant in a case involving 15 tons of marijuana landed at Port Bienville in May of 1976, was this week fined 15,000 and sentenced to 13 months in the state penitentiary.

Howard, serving a like sentence in the Federal Correctional Institute in Ashland, Ky., for violation of special parole, is to have the new term run concurrently with the existing sentence.

An order, signed by Circuit Court

Judge Leslie B. Grant, dated Oct. 27, 1977, and made known yesterday by District Attorney Albert Necaise, orders both the fine and the payment of court costs ($57.07).

The defendant was represented in the case by his attorney Talbot M. Smith, following his signing of a Waiver of Personal Appearance in Boyd County, Kentucky.

The order also gives an acknowledgement by the court of receipt of both fine and court costs.

Payment of the money brings to $120,000 the amount received by Hancock County in fines directly related to the case.

The sale of the shrimp boat Gulf Stream, used by the smugglers to bring the marijuana from Columbia, S.A., netted $40,120, an amount retained by the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division, US Customs.

Buccaneer Crew Notes

by DIDDY QUINLAN

Halloween is a time for kids and, at Buccaneer we let 'em have it.

Saturday started out with games of the carnival genre. Points from races, bean bag games, and water gun contests, were totaled to determine the winners.

In the 10 and above age category, Gus Carcabasis, 12 of New Orleans took the honors; Lanny Morales, 6 or St. Bernard, La. and Tate Chlason, 5 of Labadie Ville, La., tied for first in the younger category. There go those Louisiana people taking all the prizes, again!

And another Louisianian won our costume contest! King Kong, alias Clifford Foret, 3, of Chauvin captured the title because he really acted the part. What a monster!!!

The kids also enjoyed an apple-bobbing, trick-or-treating, and a bonfire Saturday night. Roy Ary of Clermont Harbor scared and entertained everyone at the bonfire with some spooky and funny ghost stories. It was a very special attraction for our campers.

This weekend's schedule will concentrate more on adults-but will include some activities for kids. But,

MOUNTAIN OF TRASH - This pile of trash at the entrance to Cedar Rest Cemetery greeted visitors for All Saints Day as they paid their respects. Trash was throughout the cemetery and visitors were correct in being angry at City of Bay St. Louis for the disorder on this, the day to honor the departed. (Staff photo - Ellis Cuevas)

A disgrace to Bay St. Louis

We had numerous complaints about the amounts of trash in Cedar Rest Cemetery on All Saints Day. The folks complaining were doing so rightfully.

In our 20 years as a neighbor of the cemetery, it's condition on All Saints Day this year has to be the poorest we can remember.

True, some folks waited until late Oct. 31 to do their cleaning, but in no way could they have accumulated as much trash as was visible in only a hour after the city crews retired for the day.

People in this area take pride in their family ties, as evidenced by the problems encountered by NASA on the acquisition of the test site, an area that included several cemeteries.

We have a new city administration, that is true, but important things like All Saints Day should be prepared for well in advance and arrangements made to see that cemeteries are in tip top shape and stay that way, even if the city crews have to work on All Saints Day.

We have a saying around the office that our neighbors never complain, but, let me tell you one thing, their relatives sure did complain on All Saints Day.

Next year we will be looking to see what shape the cemetery will be in for All Saints Day.

An added attraction

We were happy this past week to hear the good news about the possibility of the construction of the Wave Pool at Buccaneer Park in Hancock County.

We feel that this added attraction will increase the popularity of the State Park and thus bring more tourists to our county.

We know there are some who can't see the impending impact on our economy, especially to the merchants in Waveland. If you have any doubts we suggest that you talk to them concerning the business already brought to them by Buccaneer Park.

We all should be honored to have such a novel attraction scheduled in our county and from what we can gather there are only seven such pools in operation throughout the United States.

The first pool constructed in the U.S., was in Decatur, Ala., in 1970. It is owned and operated by the City of Decatur and they report, that "its popularity among the residents continues to grow." The Wave Pool in Decatur, has been visited by vacationing families from all the Southeast.

Hancock County is on the grow, recreation is on the grow, and the proposed Wave Pool at Buccaneer will certainly help us grow in recreation.

We have industry here and coming industries to provide more jobs. It has taken us a long time to move forward. The popular slogan "we've come a long way baby" is more true today than ever before.

The sky is the limit, Hancock County doesn't have to play second fiddle to any county in the U.S.

Opinion/Jake Jacob

Daylight saving time - a myth or a measure

The mysteries involved in the continued necessity of darkening the evening in favor of lightening the morning are beyond the average person's grasp.

Perhaps the arguments advanced by those involved in having their children wait at school bus stops in the morning, outweigh the arguments of those having their children walk home in the dark.

Perhaps the demands of the farmer, who must rise early in the day to perform his chores or work the fields, outweigh the advantages offered the municipal dweller who loses the scant light of evening to perform the hundred and one tasks generally associated with this time of day.

Over the last couple of years a "team" of civil servants surged about, in an attempt to determine advantages to be gained in energy saving by having the time remain consistent throughout the year.

The result of their investigations, as far as is known, was classes as "inconclusive," a determination at which private industry could have managed to arrive without the necessity of involving an entire nation in an off-again, on-again experiment conducted at a direct loss to the taxpayer.

It would appear however that other government forces, and these located in this county, who have demonstrated their ability to apply satellite garnered data to areas of public worth, have the tools to determine the good or evil of maintaining the present clock variations versus a set area or zone time.

If recollection serves, the two Landsats pass over every space on earth once every 18 days. Between them therefore this time frame is dropped to half that amount. A programming of computer banks at Slidell to convert Landsat heat and light imagery to a print-out of real energy useage through the 24-hour time span over the next year or so would soon verify or deny the value in clock variations.

The spin-off interpretations and applications also lend food for thought.

Of course, the satellites could not equate the human factor, but probably the energy consumption finding would more than indicate the reaction of human necessity to a government regulation that probably, like the dodo, should have become extinct.

The Senior Citizens Center in Bay St. Louis was invaded by ghosts, goblins, ghouls, dracula's, frankenstein's monster, werewolves and many skeletons.

Yes Seniors, you guessed right, it was the Senior Citizens combination birthday and Halloween party, which took place on Monday, Oct. 31. It was a gala affair, attended by 85 Seniors.

BIRTHDAY WISHES

The Seniors who celebrated birthdays in October were Mrs. Geneva Johnston, Birdie Quinn, Yvonne Virgilio, Pearl Duvernay, Eunice Dunbar, Thelma White and Mr. W. J. Howard. Congratulations to all Seniors, by the laughter and joking about each other's ages, we know you had a good time.

Winners of the special prize for birthday celebrants, donated by Danny's Fried Chicken Restaurant, was Mrs. Thelma White.

COSTUME WINNERS

The judging of the Halloween costumes for the men and women was a difficult one, it narrowed down to two ladies getting the most applause, Mrs. Thelma White and Mrs. Geneva Johnston.

Filling a need

Some 100 school systems and businesses across the state are helping their students and employees understand the benefits of a free economic system.

It seems strange that such a basic and fundamental tenet in the American system would have to be emphasized to those who benefit from it.

But, such is the case. Those 100 school systems and businesses are utilizing the Mississippi Economic Council's "Understanding Free Enterprise" Program to correct misconceptions and build confidence in our economic way of life.

The Mississippi Legislature has mandated economic education in the state's schools; yet the MEC effort is the first concerted statewide effort to expose students to the economic facts of life. It is being used in junior and senior high schools, as well as in the shops and factories of Mississippi businesses.

In fact, Mississippi business is playing a major role in this economic education effort. Most of the schools utilizing the MEC program are able to do so because a local business or bank has sponsored the program.

It is important that the future participants in our economic system understand the importance of profit, the role of government, the importance of productivity, the need for fringe benefits, the necessity of competition, and the general principles behind free enterprise.

All of the state's schools should participate in economic education, whether or not it is the MEC program. Education can assure that economic freedom will survive.

Mrs. Thelma White won first prize for the best dressed Halloween celebrant and she received a scarf holder donated by the Sea Chest store. The majority of the Seniors applauded Mrs. Geneva Johnston for her original costume, depicting the true Halloween spirit. Geneva, we congratulate you, for you clever make-up. Geneva Johnston also won a scarf holder donated by the Sea Chest store.

In the men's department, for the most unique Halloween costume, Leonard Rupp won a prize donated by the T.G.&Y. Store in Bay St. Louis. It was a leather billfold.

Our personal thanks to Conrad Mauffray who helped entertain by leading the Seniors in a community Song Fest, followed by yours truly singing "Walking My Baby Back Home" and "Old Man River" and "God Bless America" with the seniors joining in the chorus.

Many thanks to our good friend and versatile pianist, Louis Burghard, who came to our rescue again, by playing all the background music, plus his own solos.

The door prize was won by Mrs. Aulthalia Hall. It was donated by the Sea Coast Echo, a six months subscription.

Highlight of the afternoon was the entrance of the witch, portrayed by Audrey Curet. Congratulations are extended to you, for the original make-up and costume depicting a witch. Mrs. Curet explained to the seniors how to make the witches brew. Yours truly has witnessed many things in his life time span, but nothing like the ingredients used in he making of this particular brew. The witch presented several senior citizens with a sample of her brew, and they, in turn, went into oblivion.

Everyone enjoyed the festivities, followed by home made cakes, ice tea and coffee.

Our thanks to our R.S.V.P. members who baked the cakes, Mrs. Oline Moran, Ethel Domain, Georgianna Diebold, Genevieve Cole, Andanda Sylvester and Mrs. Bea Favre, and to the volunteers who served the refreshments, Mrs. Oline Moran, Leonie Fricke, Ethel Domain and Georgianna Diebold, and to our telephone committee, Mrs. Jewel Stratton and Eva Ruhr.

In the decorating department a special thank you to all these staff members for a wonderful job. Pam Jones, site manager of nutrition; Donnell Taylor, program specialist; Mrs. Susan Krost, social worker aide; Barbara Fisher, CETA worker. Ur-chids to all the R.S.V.P. members, staff members and everyone who helped make this party a gala event.

BAZAAR
The Senior Citizens in Hancock County will hold their "Annual Bazaar," 10 Seniors enjoyed the show.

Governor Cliff Finch
REPORT TO THE PEOPLE

For the past several months, we have been negotiating with the State of Louisiana in an effort to establish the rights of each state to any revenues that come from the coastal waters that lie between the two states.

Basically, what we have been trying to do is to extend the land boundary lines on out into the water so we would have a definite agreement on which state had the rights to which part of the coastal waters and the continental shelf that lies beneath the waters.

This is important because it will determine the amount of federal funds each state will receive for coastal zone management, in addition to possible other funds.

Nov. 9 at the Senior Citizen Center on Old Spanish Trail. The Bazaar is an event in which all Seniors can participate, by bringing an item they have made to be sold, or to be displayed. Examples would be: ceramics from the ceramic class, paintings and drawings from the art class, plants and floral arrangements from the horticulture class, quilts from the quilting class. The money made from articles sold by the various classes goes to help defray expenses.

Anyone 60 years or over who would like to bring an article they have made, or an item they wish to sell or display, can do so by bringing them up to the Center. The only stipulation being, the individual selling the item for their own purpose must stay with the item until it is sold.

Seniors who wish to have lunch at the Center, the day of the Bazaar may do so by calling Pam Jones, site manager for nutrition, 467-9292, for a reservation. There will be accommodations for 85 Seniors. Reservations will be made on a first call basis.

NASHVILLE EXCURSION

The Senior Citizens Center Excursion to Music City USA was a successful one. Forty-three Seniors left the center last Thursday morning on the Greyhound bus, and arrived in Nashville Thursday evening. Friday morning, October 28th the Seniors toured Old Ryman Auditorium where many of the Super Stars of Country and Western fame started their careers. It has now become a landmark. The Seniors then went to see "The Upper Room," a Huge Wood Carving of the Last Supper, which measures 17 ft. by 9 ft. They went to visit millionaires row, the home of the Country and Western stars, Tex Ritter, Tammy Wynette, Minnie Pearl, Ronnie Milsaps, and Webb Pierce.

Friday night they attended the new home of the Grand Ole Opry, where they were entertained by 18 country and western singers. Among the stars were: Del Reeves, Ray Acuff, Del Wood, Jimmy Dickens, Lester Flatt Four Guys and Bill Carlisle. The Seniors enjoyed the show.

It now is certain that there is no chance of the two states reaching an agreement because our differences in opinion are too great. Frankly, Louisiana is trying to grab up the rights to all the water, except for what I describe as a "tub full" over around Pascagoula.

As long as I have a say in the matter, we will not give in to Louisiana, but will continue to fight for what we know is rightfully ours.

Federal regulations say that if the two states cannot agree on a boundary that they can take their cases to the Department of Commerce where the associate administrator will make a decision. We are now at that point and the administrator must, by law, make a decision within the next six months.

Then, if either of the states does not agree with his or her decision, they can take it to the federal court. I want to assure the people of Mississippi that we will go at least that far. In fact, I think it's time that we started thinking about trying to win back some of our fishing rights off the coast that I believe were unfairly awarded to Louisiana way back in 1906.

I believe we will win this battle, because I sincerely believe that our position is 100 per cent correct.

Harrison County as well as all of Hancock County.

The House plan submitted by Frank Parker, civil rights attorney, adds the Sleepy Hollow precinct of Pearl River
County to Hancock County to make up
Hancock County 122.

The Parker Senate plan creates two coast districts without any incumbents.
One places all of Hancock County, traditionally represented by someone from Pearl River County, into a district with the Harrison county precincts of Delisle, Ladner, Pineville, West and East Pass Christian, Outside Long

Gulfport precincts 1, 2, 10 and 14.

The future of the legislature now is in legislature violated the principle of one man-one vote as set out in the Voting Rights Act of 1965.

to build within two years, he said.

Small said he will appear formally before the board sometime in the future to request a favorable water rate to operate the development's irrigation system.

He said operation of the system,
requiring some 50,000 gallons of water per day, would be restricted to late evening and early morning hours.

home on the beach for him and his wife for Southern Mississippi, the Supreme Court ordered the lower court to redraw legislative district boundaries to comply with current judicial standards for legislative apportionment.

Those standards include the one man-one vote principle which requires districts as nearly equal in population as possible. At the same time, districts must be drawn so they do not submerge concentrations of black votes.

The lawmakers, in addition, outlined districts represented by only one senator or representative.

The three-man panel-composed of Judge J. P. Coleman of the U.S. Fifth
Circuit Court of Appeals, and Judges
Dan Russell and Harold Cox of the U.S.
District Court, Southern District of Mississippi—three months ago invited both houses of the legislature and directed the Justice Department and civil rights plaintiffs to each submit their own plans for reapportionment.

Recommendations from the Justice Department and civil rights plaintiffs were submitted to the court Monday, following closely behind completion of plans by the Senate and House late last week.

Pass Council stalls on raises

Pass Christian's Board of Aldermen Tuesday night passed over a scheduled discussion of pay raises for city employees.

In its budget for the current fiscal year, the board proposed a ten percent across-the-board increase for department personnel and a five percent increase for department heads.

The pay raise question was tabled Tuesday to give board members more time to study personnel recommendations and evaluations by department heads.

In other action, the board:
-Approved a $1,000 grant to the Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce.

-Received a release from federal bankruptcy court to sell tax-delinquent properties in Discovery Bay.

-Committed the expenditure of some $5,800 in anti-recession federal funds to insure continued flow of the U.S. money.

Scenes from Halloween in Bay St. Louis

Water heater given caution label

The U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (CPSC) today warned consumers of a possible serious shock hazard from certain portable, immersible electric water heaters manufactured by the Ambory Corp., of Hazel Park, Mich. One of these heaters was reportedly involved in the recent electrocution of a 17-year-old girl in Little Fork, Minn.

Sold to heat water in and around the home, the heaters are constructed of an exposed resistive heating element contained within a perforated metal case which permits water to contact the heating mechanism. This element is powered by electrical current from a standard electrical outlet. Potential for serious shock injuries, possibly resulting in electrocution, exists when water contacts the powered heating element.

The four heaters in question are the "Ambory Special," "Jiffy Jr.," "Jiffy Sr.," and "Rain." Distributed nationwide, they are sold primarily in hardware stores and tack shops. CPSC estimates that approximately 50,000 of the immersible water heaters are currently in consumers' hands.

The Commission on Oct. 20 authorized its staff to proceed against the Ambory Corp., to remove this alleged hazard from the marketplace.

CPSC urges consumers to take extreme caution if they use one of these heaters. All four models are sold with instructions warning users not to touch the water container or the water itself while the heater is "on." Consumers are also directed to turn off the heater and unplug it before testing the water temperature.

Anyone aware of any shock or electrocution incidents associated with an Ambory immersible electric water heater is urged to immediately call CPSC's toll-free Hotline at 800-638-2543.

Rocks go at Hornets, Friday

By ELLIS CUEVAS Coach Billy Poole's St. Stanislaus Rock-A-Chows will face East Central in their Homecoming game Friday at the St. Stanislaus stadium.

The Rocks now 3-4-1 are trying for a 500 season with only two games left. Last week they fell victim to the explosive Pass Christian Pirates, who have only suffered one set back this year.

"We moved the ball on the ground well putting 20 points on the score board. The Pirates just made more points than us. A team that scores 20 points in a game usually wins, stated Poole.

Bill Kergosen had another night with over 100 yards in the Pirates contest and was voted offensive player of the week by the Rocks. Defensive player of the week honors were shared by Jamie McKeough and Roy Andermann.

PART OF THE ACT-Getting an assist from fellow pilots is this "inebriated" airman whose antics in the air later reflected his lack of sobriety.

State eyes Sugar Bowl in game against Auburn

Still seeking to find just the right combination for a sound offense, Mississippi State invades Jordan-Hare Stadium Saturday at 1:30 p.m. for a battle with the Auburn Tigers.

Of particular note were State's shift into some power-I and slot-I offensive formations and the resultant 10 catches for 190 yards between them by freshmen wide receivers Mardye McDole and Breck Tyler.

McDole, a 6-2, 175-pound speedster from Mobile, Ala., grabbed seven passes against the Crimson Tide for 96 yards while Tyler, 6-3, 200 pounds, and from Starkville, latched on to three aerials for 94 yards. McDole, who will be making his first appearance as a collegian in his state of residence Saturday, bagged the most tosses by a Bulldog receiver in a single game since tight end Howard Lewis of Kosciusko made eight receptions against Auburn at Jackson in 1974.

In addition, Tyler added a new element of the "big play" to the MSU receiver corps with a 53-yard beauty from senior quarterback Bruce Threadgill of New Iberia, La.

Utilizing the new "I" formations after a season-and-a-half with the Wishbone offense, MSU quarterbacks Threadgill, freshman Dwayne Brown of Natchez, and Gary Schaffhauser of Greenville riddled the Alabama secondary for 227 passing yards.

Re-establishing the running game appears to be one of State's priorities this week against the Tigers, who are 4-4 after blasting Florida 29-14 in Auburn.

Sporting a swift set of running backs, Auburn also presents problems with breakaway threats Joe Cribbs and William Andrews in the same lineup. Freshman flanker Byron Franklin averages over 25 yards per catch to pose a headache for the MSU secondary.

The last game will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Holden Stadium on the PRC campus.

Jones Junior College, the nation's second ranked team will represent the south against the Itawamba Indians in the championship game.

This Saturday night, the only things riding on the outcome of the Wildcats' game against Co-Lin is pride and a winning season. Pearl River is 5-4 on the season and Coach J.C. Arban's promise of winning more than he loses rides solely on the outcome of Saturday nights action in the Dobie Holden Stadium.

"We have a lot to prove," Arban said, "it's been a rough season for us, and our fans, we're just not used to losing around here."

In the last 10 years the Wildcats have won nine or more games in 7 of those seasons. A 4-4 record was posted in 1974 and a 5-5 mark worksheet was set in 1967 and 1968. During the last decade the Wildcats have been state champions three times, south division champs four times and runners up four other times. "We have a lot to prove, not only to the fans but to ourselves," Arban said, "this is certainly more than just an end to a mediocre season."

The Wildcats lost last week 1-6 to the Southwest Bears, the annual patsties turned respectable football team of the south division. "I felt we played a pretty good game overall," Arban said, "we just had some individual mistakes and let downs on defense."

The last game will start at 7:30 p.m. in the Holden Stadium on the PRC campus. Jones Junior College, the nation's second ranked team will represent the south against the Itawamba Indians in the championship game.

They have had a lot of injuries so we don't really know how they will be playing. "They are 4-5 for the season and this is their last game. We are sure that they want to even their record with a win against us."

"We are looking forward to a very good game against the Hornets and we will be ready for them." With kick-off at 7:30 p.m., the probable starting offensive lineup for the Rocks will be: Bruce Morreale, center; Mike Cure and Glen Logan, guards; Gene Rogers and Daniel Handshoe, tackles; Frank Keel and game; it was an exciting game." "Long Beach is an AA rated school and are in the Big Gulf Coast Conference, they have lost only three games this year, Ocean Springs, George County and d'Iberville. We know that we are going to have a hard game," stated coach Rogers.

The Pirates have lost only one game this season and that was to unbeaten d'Iberville 16-12. The strong North Biloxi team is the Singing River Conference leader. Coach Rogers further stated, "Long Beach is not a weak team, they have a fine passing quarterback in Greg Moody and a fine defensive team. We will be playing to win and will play just about everybody on our team like we have in the past. We use players that are not our regulars on special teams giving everyone an opportunity to play at Pass Christian." The game will be played in the Bearcat stadium, Long Beach.

Tigers seek Homecoming win

By ELLIS CUEVAS

The Bay High Tigers are ready for Homecoming against St. John on Friday night according to coach Billy Rhodes. The Tigers took off a couple days of practice last week since they had an open date. This being Homecoming, plus the fact that the Tigers haven't won at home this season, should make the Tigers hungry for victory.

Their last game of the season against St. Martin was an away game.

"St. John's has a senior ball club and will be the largest team the Tigers have faced this year. St. John's first string quarterback is out but they have a very fine running back in John Papania," stated coach Rhodes.

Coach Rhodes in talking about his team also said, "We will be up for Homecoming, even though we are playing only four or five seniors. We have about six starters out and three questionables for the Homecoming tilt. Jimmy of very young players this season." A capacity crowd is expected for the 7:30 p.m. kick-off Friday night at Tiger Stadium.

Craig a fine defensive end and offensive tackle has left Bay High with his family in a move to England. He is a fine player and we sure hated to lose him with so many other starters out. We ended up playing a lot

There will be a Homecoming dance after the game sponsored by the Tiger Booster Club at Clement R. Bontemps American Legion Post 139 on Blue Meadow Road in Bay St. Louis.

HNC Hawks ready for weekend

Hawk Coach Irving Favre said Monday that his squad is ready for Poplarville this weekend, and the Pirates next week.

Favre, speaking just following his signing of Pickle

Bowl contracts, said he enjoys a good relationship with Pat Morris, coach of Poplarville, a man he considers "...a fine coach and an asset to the profession."

He said that while he and his team had a lot of respect for the Poplarville squad, they have had a lot of injuries that may slow them down this week.

"When you continue to win the pressure mounts to keep the momentum going and stay undefeated.

"The Hawks are playing good football and if we can continue to play like this and eliminate mistakes we should keep our unbroken string of victories intact."

"Everybody can rest assured we are not taking our last games lightly," Favre said.

He said he realized that now the Hawks were in the Pickle

Bowl it would add zest to their oppositions efforts to prevent them from winning.

He quoted the fine performance being turned in by Quarterback Vincent Adams, and the fine ground gains of Dentist Nelson, as instances.

He said Nelson is approaching the 800 mark rushing and it would be a great feather in his cap if he could make 1000 yards, a hard thing to do in high school football.

He said he had taken his playing films to Poplarville and exchanged them for a like number from Coach Morris.

"We just sat in adjoining rooms and watched each others films," he said.

He again repeated that no new plays would be introduced for this season, with the players instead relying on perfection of existing patterns to win ball games.

USM offers basketball tickets

Basketball season tickets for the University of Southern Mississippi's 13 home games are now on sale at the ticket office in Green Coliseum.

The season ducats can be purchased at a savings of one-third the cost of tickets bought on the single-game rate. The single-game price for a reserved chair seat is $3; the season ticket price is $26.

Coach M. K. Turk's Golden Eagles will play four home games in December, six in January and three in February. Dates and opponents follow:

DECEMBER: 5-Arkansas State; 7-Florida Southern; 13-Louisiana Tech; 15-Tulane.

JANUARY: 3-Culver-Stokton; 6-U. of California, San Diego; 14-U. of Missouri, St. Louis; Sanford; 23-Mercer; 28-U. of North Carolina, Asheville.

UNANIMOUS VOTE

The Hancock North Central Hawks football team voted, unanimously to play in the Pickle Bowl even if they were invited to play in the Wendell Ladner Bowl, should the games be on the same night, according to principal Thad Haskins. The team also voted to play in the Wendell Ladner Bowl if they were invited and the game a week later.

FEBRUARY: 6-Baptist College; 9-Northwestern Louisiana; 11-Northeast Louisiana.

All home games will have a 7:30 tip-off.

MORAN EXHIBITION

Gulf Coast Artist, Joe Moran will have paintings at the Governor's Mansion, Jackson, Mississippi. A reception on Nov. 13, from 2 to 4 p.m. will open the exhibit which will last through December 31. One of the paintings to be shown will be d'Iberville's ship "New Horizons," one from a triptych of The Landing of d'Iberville.

Harvill outdoors

By Donald Harvill

By DONALD HARVILL

The salt water fishing seems to be holding its own, specks are being caught in fair numbers in just about all of our local waters. White trout, flounders, reds, and sheephead are also being caught in fair numbers. The fresh water fishing is still improving, bass and white perch are being caught pretty regularly now in most of our local rivers and bayous.

I've never seen so many hunters in the woods in all my life, as I saw this past weekend, everywhere you'd go there would already be someone ahead of you. The shooting Saturday morning sounded almost like a reenactment of the invasion of Normandy. With all the shooting, that went on somebody should have killed a mess of squirrels. I don't know how many were taken, but I'm sure there were a bunch of 'em.

After a short closure, archery season is now open again, but with squirrel season being open I doubt that many people will be bow hunting. Most hunters prefer the action of squirrel hunting over the slower bow hunting.

BAY ST. LOUIS - The fishing has been good. Ernie Spence and Jasper Love fished in the Jourdan River last week and over three days they caught 62 speck, 14 reds and 30 sheephead. We open at 9 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. on weekdays and we close at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday. (Carl Gustafson Sr., Sportsmens Paradise)

BAYOU CADDY - The fishing has been pretty good. Mr. and Mrs. Miller from Bay St. Louis caught a box of real big specks, some averaged about 2 and a half lbs. Ed Heath also caught some nice specks and flounders. Ten or fifteen boats from up in the country went out and caught from one quarter to one half a box of specks, white trout and flounders per boat. Ray Kidd caught some nice specks. We open about daylight and close about sunset. (Mr. Bordage, Bordage Bros. Marina)

PEARLINGTON - We had fair fishing last weekend. There were some nice bass caught on Saturday. Jack Patterson caught eight or nine real nice bass at Waste House Bayou. White perch were caught Sunday on live minnows. Johnny Jones from Picayune caught a nice bunch of white perch on minnows. The water is still looking good. A lot of fishermen went hunting over the weekend. (Mr. Roy Baxter, Pearl River Marina)

KILN - The fishing has been pretty good. A lot of people have been fishing. A lot of specks are being caught in the lower part of Jourdan River. There have been a good many white perch caught in the river. The water in the river is still clear. There was a lot of squirrel hunting over the weekend. David Ladner killed squirrels on Saturday, the same day as Keven Haas killed 5 squirrels. We now open at 5:30 a.m. and close at 6:00 p.m. We close at 1 p.m. on Tuesdays and Sundays. We have live minnows, worms, crickets and shrimp. (Andy Ladner, Andy's Baitshop at Kiln Supermarket)

ANSLEY - The fishing is still pretty good. Two men caught some nice large flounders Saturday. Several boats went out and caught some nice specks and rat reds at Little Grassy and Pole Cat Bend, and some were also caught at Big Grassy and at St. Joe's Point. We still have some live bait. We now open at 5 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. (Mrs. Toxie Hall, LaFrances Fishing Camp)

JOE'S BAYOU - The fishing is still pretty good. A lot of specks are being caught at the mouth of the river, all up to the I-10 bridge. The water is still good and clear. We have live bait. (Mrs. Allie Cospelich, Joe's Bayou Marina)

Ron Genin to head USM's sports business effort

The resignation of Jim Simpson as athletic business manager at the University of Southern Mississippi and the appointment of a successor have been announced by Athletic Director Roland Dale.

Ron Genin, Simpson's assistant since September of 1975, will assume the post Dec. 1. Simpson's resignation becomes effective Nov. 4.

"We regret Jim's decision to return to the teaching profession but we wish him the best," Dales said. "On the other hand we're pleased to have such an energetic and qualified person as Ron on hand to step right in. He has worked very closely with Simpson in our ticket program for the past two years and is keenly aware of our aims."

Simpson has accepted the position of co-ordinator of continuing education at the University of Alabama-Huntsville.

Genin, 27, is a native of Bay St. Louis, and a former star athlete at St. Stanislaus High School there. He earned four letters in football, three in basketball and one in baseball. Gulf Research Laboratory open house has full slate

A fascinating peek into the world of marine science is in store for visitors to the Gulf Coast Research Laboratory's open house on Saturday, Nov. 12, with activities planned from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

Among the featured items to be presented will be animals and plants that inhabit the waters and marshes of the Mississippi Gulf Coast, the techniques used by researchers to study them and their natural environment, and the physical characteristics of the Gulf of Mexico.

During Open House, the grounds and facilities will be open on the main campus in Ocean Springs, and at the Biloxi branch where both the Marine Education Center and the GCRL Seed Oyster Hatchery will welcome visitors.

Numerous examples of coastal life are displayed at the Marine Education Center, including the beautiful as well as the unusual and strange-looking: Visitors to the Center will be able to view displays of frog fish, a baby nurse shark, salamanders, a fresh-water shrimp from Hawaii (which grows up to one pound at maturity), a black pine snake (currently on the endangered species list), and an albino brown water snake. Also on exhibit will be some interesting "nature art."

In conjunction with the Open House activities on the main campus, senior staff members will present popular programs on different marine-related topics. These will last 15 to 20 minutes each and will be given in the Lecture Room of the Caylor Building.

Laboratory Information Slide Program, a 14-minute documentary program on the Laboratory, 10:30 a.m. and p.m.

Historians to document Gainesville

The Hancock County Historical Society is investigating ways of assembling a complete documentation covering all aspects of Gainesville life, a community absorbed into the fee area of NASA-NSTL.

The groups board of directors this month stated the effort is being made to compile a record for future generations. The society's agenda is the procuring of a building suitable for storage of historic files, possible creation of a local museum, and as a meeting place.

The membership drive is still underway with dues reported by President Capt. Max Berns, as being $6 per year.

Berns also reported the registry for historic buildings is still open and persons having knowledge or interest of or in such structures are invited to contact him at the Chamber of Commerce office on US-90.
